ANNUAL BALL FAIR NIGHT

Convened by Mr. Geo. W. Malcolm, an enthusiastic meeting was held Monday night in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, to arrange and appoint committees to carry on the necessary work in the dining hall, etc., in connection with the annual ball of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society.

It has been the practice in the past few years to hold the dance on the evening two days after the fair. However, it has been decided to hold the dance on the night of the fair, following the custom in the early history of the society, to clear the hall of the exhibits and "celebrate" until the early hours.

An added attraction this year is the awarding of a Ford DeLuxe Roadster to the holder of the lucky ticket.

Chas. Hunt with his orchestra will supply the music, and a real community dance is promised.

The members of the various committees are the "young folks" of the society, but will be under the supervision and guided by the experience of Mrs. F. Turgoose, Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, and Mrs. R. D. Pope.

The following are the personnel of the committees: Miss E. Jeune, Mrs. G. W. Malcolm, Pete Turgoose, Russell Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. A. The regular monthly meeting of the Sidney Board of Trade will be held in Wesley Hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 8th, commencing at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as a number of important matters are up for consideration.

An excellent turnout of citizens is anticipated and a real enjoyable afternoon is being looked forward to.

OLD TIMER PASSES AWAY

News of the sudden death of L. Cumberbatch (better known as "Tommy") in his 61st year, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, on Tuesday evening, after a short illness, will be received with regret by his numerous friends in The Islands district.

Tommy was a member of the crew of the sailing ship "Raftdown" which landed at Sidney with the rails for the Victoria & Sidney Railway in 1893. Leaving the ship on its departure from this port he built his residence on School Cross Road where he lived for about 13 years. In 1899 the North Saanich Conservative Association was formed and he was appointed secretary. Later he moved to Victoria where he was employed as clerk at the Dalmeny Hotel. In 1910 he joined the staff of the Silver Spring Brewery and proved a faithful servant as secretary until struck with his illness a few days ago.

Tommy was a native of Barbados, British West Indies, and leaves no immediate relatives. The remains are reposing at Haywards' (B.C.) Funeral Chapel from where the funeral will take place on Friday at 2 p.m. The Rev. J. S. Patterson will officiate and interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Echoes of the News

Women may be going in more and more for business, but no one expects them to take the part of the silent partner.

Russia points with pride to the fact that Russian women are doing men's work and are getting men's pay. That's nothing. Over here women get men's pay without doing any work. Friend wife usually takes care of it, too.

The Associated Press reports from Shanghai that "Japanese teachers are to instruct Chinese pupils in Nanking." How does one Nank?

It may have been a winterless winter, but we can't accuse this of being a summerless summer.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN A SILENT WORLD

Douglas Symonds is learning English. Since he first heard it on the 7th of July, and already has several hundred words to his credit, he has done very well for a boy of sixteen.

Our friend was born in Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, of English-speaking parents, in the midst of English-speaking people.

At 16 months Douglas was stricken deaf, and for fifteen years thereafter lived in a silent world.

After a treatment by Edmund G. Croeth, D.C., Pemberton Building, Victoria, on the 7th of July, we clapped our hands and the boy jumped with astonishment. To hear for the first time in his lifetime, practically speaking, is rather startling. And to get one's hearing instantaneously is still more so.

Douglas looks very happy. He has discovered that if you drop a heavy weight on the floor, bang a door, or press the button on an auto horn that the most interesting noises result, and they are all quite different.

He is gradually discarding the system of signals he had for conveying ideas, and is rapidly learning to shape his lips into the series of meaningful conveying sounds, which he realizes for the first time is the English language.

Douglas's principal occupation is pointing to things and demanding a name. These names he stores in the recesses of his memory, and endeavors to pronounce later on.

We think that in a few months' time Douglas will know and be able to pronounce sufficient of his own language to carry on a substantial conversation.

For Douglas is a very bright boy, and his mother, Mrs. Symonds, of 729 Lamson Street, Esquimalt, is justly proud of him. She'll be glad to tell you all about her boy if you'll call on "Home" Friday, 9:57.

If there is a moral to this tale we think it is: "Why remain deaf?" Wouldn't this be a pleasant idea to convey to those who live in a silent world?

Several new additions and alterations to their home itself have enabled them to further this idea of privacy.

To help lessen the pain at the time of the death of our loved ones, to see that everything is done that can be done to make the last service for our dead satisfying, to surround the funeral rites with a magnificence that is glorious — this is the work of these dignified, yet up-to-date funeral directors. From the time that they are called in the hour of death, you may rest assured that every detail of the burial service will be taken off your hands.

It is to enterprises of this type that we can be thankful for the high standards which the art of funeral directing and embalming can be attributed. The British Columbia Funeral Company is indeed to be complimented on the high plane upon which they conduct their business.

BEATTY WASHER STORE

The eyes of the ladies of this entire community are centred on this popular firm who are displaying the new models of the Beatty Electric Washer and Ironer.

The Beatty Washer with the seamless porcelain enamel tub is the best low-priced washer money can buy. Women like its quiet, smooth operation and its price, too. The tub of glistening porcelain is finished inside and out in ripple apple green. The tub is narrow to keep the clothes within the zone of a vigorous washing action, and to give it greater washing speed and thoroughness. The agitator is of similar improved design as in the Beatty Washer with the Raise and Lower Basket.

Here are five reasons for buying a Beatty Washer: Keeps water hot longer, double thick porcelain enamel on steel prevents loss of heat; fastest on steel prevents loss of heat; fastest on steel prevents loss of heat; fastest on steel prevents loss of heat; fastest on steel prevents loss of heat.

new, polished, banded vane agitator washes faster than any other; easiest to keep clean, a dipper of water flushes out soap residue and sediment after washing; soap solutions, water softeners or dirt solvents will not affect the enamel tub; retains its lustrous beauty, for women like the beautiful two-tone, lustrous finish of the Beatty Washer.

Lift washday's last burden by buying your wife a Beatty Ironer which will do the ironing in just one third of the time. It will save her tire-some hours of lifting and pushing a hot, heavy hand iron. With the Beatty there is no weight to lift, no pressure to exert, no tired arms or aching back or feet. You sit down to guide the clothes over the roll, which does all the hard work with no discomfort from heat.
